CORRIGENDA

The title of the volume containing eight English versions of the New Testament edited by Dr. Luther A. Weigle and reviewed in the January 1963 issue, pp. 42-44 by Margaret T. Hills should read:

THE NEW TESTAMENT OCTAPLA

instead of The New English Octapla. Because of possible confusion with the New English Bible New Testament, we are particularly eager to set the record straight.

Dr. Weigle has also pointed out that in the beginning of the last paragraph, it should be stated that the original spellings have been carefully retained even in cases of obvious printer's errors.

BINDING CASES

Readers who wish to have binding cases for their loose copies of The Bible Translator, should refer to the notice on p. 62 of this issue.

CONTRIBUTORS

Robert G. Bratcher is Research Associate of the Translations Department of the American Bible Society.

Marion M. Cowan, a missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators, has been engaged in Scripture translation and literacy work among the Tzotzil Indians.

Herbert Dennett, has been in advertising most of his life, concerned with "communication" in the business world. Since 1946 he has been connected with the Haymarket Bible School and a Christian Literature Course which has developed there. He is the author of several books and numerous articles, mostly under a nom-de-guerre.

Joseph E. Grimes is a member of the Wycliffe Bible Translators working in Mexico.

Åge Holter is Translations Secretary of the Norwegian Bible Society.

Constance Naish is a missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators among the Tlingit Indians of Alaska.

B. F. Price is Old Testament adviser in the Translations Department of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Dow F. Robinson of the Wycliffe Bible Translators has for some years been working on one of the Aztec dialects in Mexico.

Gillian Story is a missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators among the Tlingit Indians of Alaska.