

UBS HELPS FOR READERS CONSULTATION

At the end of May 1974 a short UBS consultation on Helps for Readers was held in Geneva. Most participants were European Bible Society staff members, but there were some participants from other regions and from outside Bible Society staff. The 2nd-3rd Quarter issue of the UBS Bulletin is entirely devoted to a report on and follow-up of this consultation, and copies may be obtained from the office of The Bible Translator at a cost of US $0.35 or £0.15 post free. The UBS General Secretary, the Rev. Ulrich Fick, writes in his editorial: "It is hoped that the discussion as it is reported and mirrored in (these) pages will contribute to an even wider dialogue about this matter which is bound to grow in importance as the members of the United Bible Societies move towards a fuller realisation of their missionary task in our time."
