

UBS Translations public website gets a facelift!

At the beginning of this year the UBS Translations public website, www.ubs-translations.org, which provides resources for the global Bible translation community, received an overhaul intended to make its contents more transparent and the site easier to navigate. Here you will find tabs that are labeled with different categories:

News is devoted to announcements of new publications and other late-breaking items of interest to the Bible translation community.

The Publications section lists books and journals published by UBS and/or authored by UBS personnel, in some cases providing tables of contents and ordering help. The latest contents of The Bible Translator are listed here, along with one article from each of the current issues.

The UBS Scholarly Catalog, which overlaps somewhat with the Publications section, is organized into Biblical Texts and Helps for Translators. It supplies book details for ordering.

The newsletter TIC Talk and its related bibliographies are located under a separate tab, and there are also tabs for searching the site and for links to other sites. You can see the latest additions to the website at the bottom of the Home tab.

You are invited to visit this site. Suggestions for improvements and additions are most welcome and should be addressed to Sarah Lind at slind@biblesocieties.org.

THE BIBLE TRANSLATOR is a refereed journal that appears in two series, Technical Papers in January and July, and Practical Papers in April and October.
